We take pleasure in offering you an appointment as Business Analystwith Novartis Healthcare Private Limited ("Novartis or the Company") as per the terms of reference given below.

The terms of your appointment are as follows:

1. PLACE OF WORK

1.1. You may periodically be required to attend at such a place or places within or outside the country for the purpose of carrying out your duties. You can be transferred to any other department or Group Company within or outside India. You shall not be permitted to work outside India for any reason without prior permission of Novartis.

1.2. Novartis is entitled to loan your services to any other Company in which it may be or become interested in any manner, whether directly or indirectly, or in any other firm or company which is or may be an affiliate, associate or subsidiary of Novartis. Novartis reserves the right to change your reporting lines, reporting manager at its discretion during the term of your service.

2. PROBATION PERIOD

The probation period is 6 months, commencing on the date of joining. At the discretion of Novartis, the probation period may be extended.

3. CONFIRMATION IN COMPANY'S SERVICE

Upon successful completion of the probation period, your employment will be confirmed, unless notified in writing that there is an extension of your probation period.

4. HOURS OF WORK

You will serve Novartis during such daily hours of work as may be defined by Novartis and the exigencies of work, in accordance with Company Policy, which can be amended from time to time.

5. LEAVE

Novartis will grant you Annual Leave of 29 working days (paid) leave per year. If you join Novartis during the year, you will be entitled to Annual leave on a pro-rata basis. Accumulation and / or encashment of Annual Leave is in accordance with Company Policy, which can be amended from time to time.

6. COMPENSATION:

6.1. As part of your annual compensation, you will receive a total Cost to Company (CTC) mentioned below: Cost to Company (INR): ₹4,052,009.00
(The details of your CTC breakdown are provided in the Annexure A).

6.2. You may also receive additional benefits as are generally accorded to the employees of the Company, subject to the applicable policies and practices of Novartis as further explained in Annexure B.

6.3. Your CTC details are confidential and you may discuss it only with the undersigned in case of any clarification.

7. DUTIES AND OBLIGATIONS

You agree to:

7.1. Conduct yourself with decorum and will efficiently and honestly discharge and perform all duties and functions at a satisfactory performance level appertaining to your employment as also such other duties as you may be required to perform by Novartis, or by any duly authorized Officer of Novartis, which are consistent with your employment in relation to the business of Novartis;

7.2. Obey and comply with all lawful orders and directions given to you by Novartis or by any person duly authorized by Novartis in that behalf and faithfully obey all the rules, regulations and arrangements of Novartis applicable to you for the management of Novartis's property or for the control and good conduct of the Novartis's employees;

7.3. Give and devote the whole of your working time exclusively to your duties with Novartis. Whilst serving Novartis you will not engage yourself directly or indirectly without the prior consent in writing of Novartis with or without remuneration in any capacity, business or activity which Novartis may in its sole discretion consider contrary to or inconsistent with the duties and obligations hereunder and/or which Novartis in its sole discretion deems prejudicial to its interest.

7.4. Not directly or indirectly take up any gainful employment or service on behalf of third parties and will not engage in business or on your own account unless specifically authorized in writing by the Management of Novartis to do so;

7.5. Adhere to the code of ethics, the Novartis Group conflicts of interest policy, the Novartis choice with responsibility, the guidelines on reporting violations of law and policies and all other Novartis policies, procedures, guidelines and other such items applicable, enforced, amended or altered from time to time to your work, and you are aware that a violation of such policies could lead to disciplinary actions up to and including termination of employment. The guidelines, which may be amended from time to time through publication on Novartis intranet or otherwise, form an integrated part of this contract and the Company's payment of any incentive is conditioned on your compliance with these guidelines and with applicable laws.

7.6. Accordingly, in case the Company determines that you have violated the law or any provisions of the guidelines in a material way (e.g. fraud, bribes, illegal marketing practices such as off-label promotion, or offering kick-backs), you will not earn or receive any incentive for any period in which such violation(s) occurred or were discovered, and you agree to promptly repay any incentive already received for any period in which such violation(s) occurred or were discovered.

7.7. Inform Novartis at once of any act of dishonesty and/or any action prejudicial to the interest of Novartis on the part of any person which may come to your knowledge;

7.8. Use all tools, equipment's, laptop, software's etc. provided by Novartis for professional purposes only. Novartis will maintain ownership of any property you are provided for use and you are expected to take reasonable care to protect the equipment from theft, damage, or misuse.

- All other matters relating to your employment with Novartis as Novartis consider being necessary or appropriate; and
- Any other purposes imposed by law and authorities.

3. Who has access to your personal data and whom are they transferred?

Personal Information provided to Novartis and any employment agency or recruiter appointed by Novartis in relation to your employment with Novartis will generally be kept confidential but you hereby consent and authorize Novartis to provide or disclose your Personal Information for the purposes stated in paragraph above to the following persons:

- Our associates (including P&O and other departments or other companies of the Novartis group);
- Any person to whom Novartis is compelled or required to do so under law or in response to a competent or government agency;
- Any person where public interest or Novartis interests require disclosure;
- Any agent or third-party service provider who provides administrative, telecommunications, computer, or other services to Novartis in connection with its business including our payroll providers, IT systems providers, cloud service providers, database providers and consultants;
- Our advisors and external lawyers in the context of the sale or transfer of any part of our business or its assets;
- Any person seeking employment references;
- Pension or insurance companies with whom Novartis has arranged benefits coverage for its employees; and
- Such sub-contractors or third-party service or product providers as Novartis may determine to be necessary or appropriate.
- Where Novartis considers it necessary or appropriate for the purposes of data storage or processing or human resource management, Novartis may transfer your Personal Information to another member of Novartis & its Group companies or third party service or product providers within or outside the country in which Novartis is established, under conditions of confidentiality and similar levels of security.

  Novartis, as well as third parties who process your Personal Information as described above, may process the Personal Information in the country where you are employed as well as in other countries world-wide. Novartis shall ensure that third parties described above shall process the received Personal Information in accordance with the purpose and within the limits under which the data was originally collected and that third parties shall provide at least the same level of protection as Novartis. The above-mentioned third parties are contractually obliged to protect the confidentiality and security of your personal data, in compliance with applicable law. Provided, however, your Personal Information shall be shared without your consent with Government agencies mandated under the law for the purpose of verification of identity, or for prevention, detection, investigation including cyber incidents, prosecution, and punishment of offences.
  When we transfer your personal data to above-mentioned recipients in other jurisdictions, we will apply the level of protection required under applicable local law and in accordance with our policies and standards.
  For transfers of personal data between our group companies, Novartis Group has adopted Binding Corporate Rules, a system of principles, rules and tools, provided by European law, in an effort to ensure effective levels of data protection relating to transfers of personal data outside the EEA and Switzerland. 5. How long do we store your personal data?

We will only retain your personal data for as long as necessary to fulfil the purpose for which it was collected or to comply with legal or regulatory requirements. When this period expires, your personal data is removed from our active systems.
Personal data collected and processed in the context of a dispute are deleted or archived (i) as soon as a settlement has been reached, (ii) once a decision in last resort has been rendered or (iii) when the claim becomes time-barred.

6. What are your rights and how can you exercise them?

If you wish to exercise your privacy rights, such as access to your personal data, correction, or deletion, please contact your P&O Manager. Such inquiries are subject to conditions and limits set forth in the law, which may for example include legal obligations or legitimate interests that Novartis may have to keep information confidential or to keep records.
You have the right to request access to and correction of information about you held by Novartis and you may:

- Check whether Novartis holds or uses your Personal Information and request access to such data;
- Request that Novartis correct any of your Personal Information that is inaccurate, incomplete, or out-of-date;
- Request that your Personal Information is retained by Novartis only if necessary, for the fulfilment of the purposes for which it was collected;
- Request that Novartis specify or explain its policies and procedures in relation to data and types of Personal Information handled by Novartis and
- Withdraw, in full or in part, your consent given previously, in each case subject to any applicable legal restrictions, contractual conditions and a reasonable time period.
